The BWEA project has been expanded to include a further plant at Wynnum using the same technology as those constructed for Sandgate, Oxley Creek and Wacol, all of which are now on line and providing excellent water quality which will enhance the water quality of the Brisbane River and Moreton Bay.