

Alliance teams are selected by clients from the very best companies available in the market, so when Alliances are compared it is really determining 'The best of the best!'

The winners of the annual Alliance Contracting Excellence (ACE) Awards were revealed at a gala dinner and awards night held at The Sheraton on the Park, Sydney. The awards, hosted by IQPC, are designed to recognise outstanding achievement in the field of Alliance Contracting across Australia and New Zealand, and are presented in front of an audience of industry thought-leaders and practitioners.

BCAA with its partner members including Brisbane Water, Caboolture Water, Aquatec Maxcon and MWH Australia, was very proud to have been selected as a finalist in the Major Project Division which includes the delivery of the premier infrastructure projects in the Australasia region.

The Major Capital Division was won by the Tullamarine-Calder Interchange Alliance while the outstanding efforts of the Brisbane Caboolture Aquifer Alliance Team was recognised by receiving an Honorable Mention, the highest award for any water project in Australasia.

As this is Aquatec Maxcon's first Alliance where it has been the Principal Constructor and is by far the largest project where it has acted in this role, this outcome is even more welcome. It clearly demonstrates the ongoing development of the company which can clearly hold its own with the leaders in the water industry and construction industry generally.
